

Clidive Lecture Series (CLS) 2019

“The Art of Underwater Photography” Talk by Nick & Caroline Robertson-Brown

When – 18th February 2019

Time – 7pm, Talk starts 7:30pm finishes approx. at 8:30pm

Where – Troy Bar, 10 Hoxton Street, London N1

Details

With the huge success of the Clidive lecture series in 2017 and 2018, Clidive is excited to announce the founders of “Frogfish Photography” - Nick and Caroline Robertson-Brown the globally renowned, multi-award winning underwater photographers, will talk to us about the secrets of the “Art of Underwater Photography”.

Nick and Caroline Robertson-Brown are a dynamic husband and wife dive team of underwater photographers, photo-journalists and authors. They have published three books and feature regularly in the diving, wildlife and international press. They work as underwater photography editors at Scubaverse. Both are passionate about marine conservation and are UK Ambassadors for Sharks4Kids.

Please join us for this illuminating talk. The venue and bar will be open from 7pm for our exclusive use, including post-talk drink. The venue serves delicious Caribbean food. The talk starts at 7:30pm sharp and will finish around 8:30pm, there will be plenty of time to ask questions.

Tickets for this talk are £5 per person, please contact social@clidive.org if you wish to buy a ticket. All profits go to the Clidive 2019 charity - The Shark Trust <https://www.sharktrust.org/>